

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

University: University of Economics in Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of International Relations
Course code: KAJ FAJ/VJA22301e/22		Title of course: Business English for PhD Students
Type, load and method of teaching activities: Form of course: Practical Recommended load of course (number of lessons): Per week: Per course: 8s Method of study: present
Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester/trimester of study: 3.
Degree of study:
Prerequisites:
Requirements to complete the course: Reading, analysing and interpreting an academic text in a foreign language. Writing an academic text in a foreign language. Presentation of own academic text at a colloquium.
Student workload:
Teaching results: Increase comprehension of academic text in a foreign language. Increase competence in the analysis of academic text in a foreign language. Acquisition of the competence of publishing an academic text in a foreign language.
Indicative content: 1. Academic style in a foreign language 2. Academic genres in a foreign language 3. Structure of an academic text in a foreign language 4. Linguistic meanings of an academic text in a foreign language 5. Differences between an academic text in Slovak and a foreign language 6. Preparation of own academic text in a foreign language and its presentation at a colloquium
Support literature: Specific literature in the student's area of scholarly research.
Syllabus:
Language whose command is required to complete the course:
Notes:
Assessment of courses Total number of evaluated students: 7
A	B	C	D	E	FX
42.86	57.14	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0
Lecturer: PaedDr. Žaneta Pavlíková, PhD.
Date of the latest change: 19.01.2022

Approved by: Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Ing. Martin Grešš, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant, Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. PhDr. Lubomír Čech, CSc., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

University: University of Economics in Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of International Relations
Course code: D FMV/VVD22031/22		Title of course: Dissertation Thesis Project and Dissertation Exam (in English)
Type, load and method of teaching activities: Form of course: Recommended load of course (number of lessons): Per week: Per course: Method of study: present
Number of credits: 20
Recommended semester/trimester of study:
Degree of study: III.
Prerequisites:
Requirements to complete the course:
Student workload:
Teaching results:
Indicative content:
Support literature:
Syllabus:
Language whose command is required to complete the course:
Notes:
Assessment of courses Total number of evaluated students: 0
A	B	C	D	E	FX	np	p
0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0
Lecturer:
Date of the latest change: 19.01.2022
Approved by: Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Ing. Martin Grešš, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant, Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. PhDr. Ľubomír Čech, CSc., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

University: University of Economics in Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of International Relations
Course code: D FMV/VVD22032/22		Title of course: Dissertation Thesis and its Defence (in English)
Type, load and method of teaching activities: Form of course: Recommended load of course (number of lessons): Per week: Per course: Method of study: present
Number of credits: 40
Recommended semester/trimester of study:
Degree of study: III.
Prerequisites:
Requirements to complete the course:
Student workload:
Teaching results:
Indicative content:
Support literature:
Syllabus:
Language whose command is required to complete the course:
Notes:
Assessment of courses Total number of evaluated students: 0
A	B	C	D	E	FX	NO	NOd	O	Od
0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0
Lecturer:
Date of the latest change: 19.01.2022
Approved by: Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Ing. Martin Grešš, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant, Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. PhDr. Ľubomír Čech, CSc., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

University: University of Economics in Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of International Relations
Course code: KMP FMV/VVC22012/22	Title of course: International Economic Law (in English)
Type, load and method of teaching activities: Form of course: Lecture Recommended load of course (number of lessons): Per week: Per course: 16s Method of study: present
Number of credits: 10
Recommended semester/trimester of study: 3.
Degree of study: III.
Prerequisites:
Requirements to complete the course: 10% - semester paper 10% - semester paper 20% - semester paper 60 % - final paper
Student workload: Total study load (in hours): 260 hours (10ETCSx26hours) Consultation participation: 16hrs Preparation for consultations: 26hrs Work on semester paper: 108hrs Work on final paper: 108hrs Consultations for the final paper: 2hrs
Teaching results: After completing the course, students will have a good orientation in the international context of international trade and investment at the macro level, with emphasis on the functioning of the World Trade Organization and the legal regulation of international flows of investment. Knowledge: Deep knowledge and understanding of the characteristics, principles and rules of operation of individual branches of international economic law, understanding the correlation between international law, international economic law and national law understanding of characteristics, principles and rules of operation of individual branches of international economic law, understanding of the relationship between international law, the ability to critically analyze the current legislation of individual branches of international economic law including its advantages and challenges Competences: understanding the legal aspects of international economic relations. Skills: the ability to work with various sources of international economic law, including the decisions of relevant dispute settlement bodies, and to apply the knowledge acquired in analyzing current issues in international economic relations.
Indicative content: International Economic Law. Law of the multilateral trading system. Fundamental principles and rules of the multilateral trading system. WTO reform. Legal framework for international investment. International investment dispute settlement system. International development law. Legal aspects of international economic integration.

Support literature:

LOWENFELD, A. 2008. International Economic Law. Oxford: Oxford University Press. 2. vydanie. 2008. ISBN 978-80-7400-752-1.

BOSSCHE, P. v.d. – ZDOUC, Ch. 2021. The Law and Policy of the World Trade Organization: Text, Cases, and Materials. 5th ed. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press. 2021. ISBN 978-11-0874-710-3.

DOLZER, R. - KRIEBAUM, U. - SCHREUER, Ch. 2022. Principles of International Investment Law. Oxford: Oxford University Press. 3rd ed. 2012. ISBN 978-01-9285-781-1.

ANDHOV, Alexandra - BROCKOVÁ, Katarína - ŠIMALOVÁ, Katarína. Slovakia. In Investment Arbitration in Central and Eastern Europe : Law and Practise. - Cheltenham; Northampton : Edward Elgar Publishing, 2019. ISBN 978-1-78811-516-2; 978-1-78811-517-9

KARAS, Martin - BROCKOVÁ, Katarína. Investment Treaties and National Sovereignty: Latest Developments. - Registrovaný: Web of Science, Registrovaný: Scopus. In Journal of International Trade Law and Policy. - Bingley : Emerland Publishing. ISSN 2045-4376, 2021, vol. 20, no. 2, pp. 127-141 online.

BROCKOVÁ, Katarína. Conflicting decisions in international investment arbitration: monograph. 1.ed. Uzhorod: LIRA, 2016.

Syllabus:

1. International Economic Law - sources, subjects, principles of IEL, relationship between IEL, international public law and EU law, concept of economic sovereignty of the state.

2. Law of the multilateral trading system – fundamentals of the WTO legal framework.

3. Fundamental principles and rules of the multilateral trading system – main principles, rules for market access, rules on unfair competition – dumping, subsidies, exceptions from rules of the multilateral trading system rules – general exceptions, security exceptions, economic integration exceptions.

4. WTO reform – reform agenda, attitudes of key international players in the multilateral trading system.

5. Legal framework for international investment – economic and legal dimension of international investment; investor, host state; sources of international investment law; legal regime of international investment protection, historical overview and current developments in international investment protection.

6. International investment dispute settlement system – legal framework and current developments in international investor-state dispute settlement.

7. International development law - concept, subject, sources, basic international legal framework, institutional connections, sustainable development goals.

8. Legal aspects of international economic integration.

Language whose command is required to complete the course:

English

Notes:

Assessment of courses

Total number of evaluated students: 0

A	B	C	D	E	FX
0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0

Lecturer: Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD.

Date of the latest change: 19.01.2022

Approved by: Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Ing. Martin Grešš, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant, Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. PhDr. Lubomír Čech, CSc., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

University: University of Economics in Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of International Relations
Course code: KMEVaHD FMV/ VVA22032/22	Title of course: International Economic Relations (in English)
Type, load and method of teaching activities: Form of course: Lecture Recommended load of course (number of lessons): Per week: Per course: 16s Method of study: present
Number of credits: 10
Recommended semester/trimester of study: 1.
Degree of study: III.
Prerequisites:
Requirements to complete the course: The final evaluation is based on the elaboration of the project plan (40%) and the final work (60%).
Student workload: Student's workload (hours): 260 hours (10 ETCSx26 hours) Consultations: 16 hours Preparation for consultations: 26 hours Assignment processing: 108 hours Final study processing: 108 hours Consultations for the final study: 2 hours
Teaching results: The main objective of the subject "International Economic Relations" at the 3rd level of study is deepening knowledge and conducting analysis in combination with extensive interdisciplinary knowledge from several fields of study. It will serve as a basis for research and development, formulation of solutions to economic and legal problems and the creation of new scientific knowledge in international economic relations. Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In-depth knowledge of economic, legal and political contexts of shaping the development trends of international economic relations • Deep understanding of the causes of specific development trends • Understanding and ability to critically evaluate the share of individual factors influencing the development of international economic relations Competencies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To search for and analyze information from various scientific and other professional and specialized sources • To carry out research at an appropriate level of qualification work • To design and implement a specific research project Skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To design, justify and use research methods for a specific project • To formulate scientific conclusions based on understanding and predicting broader contexts
Indicative content:

The essence of the formation of international economic relations. Theory of international economic relations. Basic forms and subjects of international economic relations. World trade. WTO. International movement of capital. International labor movement. Global environmental problems.

Support literature:

CARBAUGH, Robert, J.: International Economics. South Western College. 450 pages. 2022. ISBN 9780357598915.

DOLZER, Rudolf – KRIEBAUM, Ursula – SCHREUER, Christoph: Principales of International Law. Oxford University Press. 2022. ISBN 9780192857811

KRUGMAN, Paul, R. - OBSTFIELD, Maurice - METITZ, Marc, J.: International Economics: Theory and Policy. Pearson Education Limited. 2017. 808 pages. ISBN 9781292214870.

REINERT, Kenneth A.: Introduction to International Economics. Cambridge University Press. 2020. 276 pages. ISBN 1108455166.

SCHENK, Catherine, R.: International Economic Relations since 1945. Routledge 2021. 190 pages. ISBN 9780815395607.

SALVATORE, Dominick: International Economics. EMEA Edition. 2019. 720 pages. ISBN 9781119667520.

Syllabus:

1. The essence of the formation of international economic relations - history and present
2. Theory of international economic relations
3. Basic forms and subjects of international economic relations - essence, theoretical definition
4. World trade - factors influencing the current development of the commodity and territorial structure of world trade
5. The WTO and its importance for the liberalization of world trade today
6. International movement of capital - essence, current development trends, factors influencing the sectoral and territorial structure of international capital movement, legal aspects
7. International labor movement - nature, economic, political and environmental factors influencing geographical flows of international migration
8. Global environmental problems - their nature, possible solutions, international regulation of global environmental problems

Language whose command is required to complete the course:

English

Notes:

Assessment of courses

Total number of evaluated students: 0

A	B	C	D	E	FX
0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0

Lecturer: Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD., Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD.

Date of the latest change: 19.01.2022

Approved by: Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Ing. Martin Grešš, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant, Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. PhDr. Lubomír Čech, CSc., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

University: University of Economics in Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of International Relations
Course code: KMPV FMV/ VVB22015/22	Title of course: Methodology of Scientific Research (in English)
Type, load and method of teaching activities: Form of course: Lecture Recommended load of course (number of lessons): Per week: Per course: 16s Method of study: present
Number of credits: 10
Recommended semester/trimester of study: 1.
Degree of study: III.
Prerequisites:
Requirements to complete the course: The final evaluation is based on the elaboration of the project plan (40%) and the final work (60%).
Student workload: 260 hours (10 ETCSx26 hours) Consultations: 16 hours Preparation for consultations: 26 hours Assignment processing: 108 hours Final study processing: 108 hours Consultations for the final study: 2 hours
Teaching results: The main objective of the subject "Methodology of Scientific Research" at the 3rd level of study is to deepen knowledge and conduct analysis in combination with extensive interdisciplinary knowledge from several fields of study. It will serve as a basis for research and development, formulation of solutions to economic and legal problems and the creation of new scientific knowledge in international economic relations. After completing the course, students will be able to develop a plan and process the academic text of their scientific work, identify the phases of scientific research and the bases of the scientific problem. Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Preparation and development of scientific work (articles, main provisions of dissertations, dissertations) in the field of international economic relations • Methodology for the preparatory stage of the dissertation - literature review, statistical data and their processing • Formulation of scientific questions and hypotheses • Methodology and structure of the discussion of scientific work • Technique for drawing conclusions for scientific work Competencies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To search for and analyze information from various scientific and other professional and specialized sources, on the issues of the world's most important regions • To carry out research at an appropriate level of qualification work • To design and implement a specific research project.

Skills:

- To design proposals and justifications for data analysis and research methods for specific projects
- To formulate the scientific conclusions based on understanding and predicting broader contexts

Indicative content:

Introduction to the methodology of scientific activity. Review of literature on scientific work. The function of hypothesis and research question. Methodological and methodical preparation for writing a scientific work. Data preparation. Setting limits. Conclusion. Preparation of the student for the defence.

Support literature:

CRESWELL, J. W., AND CRESWELL, J. D. Research design: qualitative, quantitative, and mixed methods approaches (Fifth edition). Los Angeles: SAGE, 2018.
 SHARP, J. A. – PETERS J. – HOWARD, K., The Management of a Student Research Project, Third Edition, Gower, 2002.
 YIN, R. K., Case Study Research: design and methods (fourth edition). Sage, Thousand Oaks, CA., 2009.
 ETHRIDGE, R. Research Methodology in Applied Economics: Organizing, Planning, and Conducting Economic Research, Blackwell Publishing Professional, New York.

Syllabus:

1. Introduction to the methodology of scientific activity
2. Review of literature on scientific work, methods of citation
3. The function of hypothesis and research question in scientific research
4. Methodological and methodical preparation for writing a scientific work (dissertation)
5. Data preparation (factual evidence, preliminary statements and results, importance of categories and relationships)
6. Setting limits (alternatives, setting limits)
7. Conclusion - contribution of scientific work, its significance
8. Preparation of the student for the defence and a comprehensive evaluation of the final work

Language whose command is required to complete the course:

English

Notes:Assessment of courses

Total number of evaluated students: 0

A	B	C	D	E	FX
0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0

Lecturer: doc. PhDr. Lubomír Čech, CSc., Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD., doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant

Date of the latest change: 19.01.2022

Approved by: Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Ing. Martin Grešš, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant, Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. PhDr. Lubomír Čech, CSc., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

University: University of Economics in Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of International Relations
Course code: KMEVaHD FMV/ VVA22034/22	Title of course: World Economy (in English)
Type, load and method of teaching activities: Form of course: Lecture Recommended load of course (number of lessons): Per week: Per course: 16s Method of study: present
Number of credits: 10
Recommended semester/trimester of study: 2.
Degree of study: III.
Prerequisites:
Requirements to complete the course: The final evaluation is based on the elaboration of the project plan (40%) and the final work (60%).
Student workload: Student's workload (hours): 260 hours (10 ETCSx26 hours) Consultations: 16 hours Preparation for consultations: 26 hours Assignment processing: 108 hours Final study processing: 108 hours Consultations for the final study: 2 hours
Teaching results: The main objective of the subject "World Economy" at the 3rd level of study is deepening knowledge and conducting analysis in combination with extensive interdisciplinary knowledge from several fields of study. It will serve as a basis for research and development, formulation of solutions to economic and legal problems and the creation of new scientific knowledge in international economic relations. After completing this doctoral course, doctoral students will develop analytical skills to assess the peculiarities of historical development, the current state and forecasts of further development of individual regions of the world economy. Another result of the course will be the ability to evaluate the weight of individual aspects of economic development of regions, political context, economic conditions and the impact of human resources in the region. Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In-depth knowledge of economic, legal and political contexts of shaping the development of development trends in the regions of the world economy • Ability to comprehend the causes of specific development tendencies in the most important regions • Ability to critically evaluate the share of individual factors influencing the development, especially in the three centres of economic power, and in China and India. Competencies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To search for and analyze information from various scientific and other professional and specialized sources, on the issues of the world's most important regions • To carry out research at an appropriate level of qualification work • To design and implement a specific research project.

Skills:

- To design proposals and justifications for data analysis and research methods for specific projects
- To formulate the scientific conclusions based on understanding and predicting broader contexts

Indicative content:

Historical peculiarities of the formation of individual regions of the world economy. The essence of the formation of the North American economic region. Specifics of US development. Specifics of the formation of the Latin American economic region. Economic development of Brazil, Argentina, Mexico. Specifics of the development of Asian economies. The European Union. The special position of developing countries in the world economy.

Support literature:

BAER, Werner: The Brazilian Economy – Growth and Development. Lynne Rienner Publishers. 2007. 500 pages. ISBN: 9781588264756.

HANDELMAN, Howard – BRYANEN, Rex: Challenges of the Developing World. Published by Lanham Boulder New York London Rowman&Littlefield Publishing, Inc. 2017. 363 pages. ISBN 978538116661.

ITO, Takatoshi – HOSHI, Takeo: The Japanese Economy. The MIT Press. 2020. 616 pages. ISBN 9780262538244.

KAWAI, Masako – PETRI, Peter.A. - CAPANELLI, Giovanni: Asian Regionalism in the World Economy. Edward Edgar Publishing. 544 pages. ISBN 97818488448544.

KATZENSTEIN, Peter,J.: A World of Regions: Asia and Europe in the American Imperium (Cornell Studies in Political Economy). Cornell University Press. 2005. 320 pages. ISBN – 13: 9780801443596.

KENTA,Goto – TAMAKI,Endo – ASEI Ito: The Asian Economy Contemporary Issues and Challenges. Routledge. 2021. 290 pages. ISBN 9780367208719.

KINGSTONE, Peter: The Political Economy of Latin America: Reflection on Neoliberalism and Development after Commodity Boom. Routledge. 2018. 216 pages. ISBN 9781138926998.

NAUGHTON,Barry,J.: The Chinese Economy. The MIT Press. 2018. 608 pages. ISBN 9780262534796.

SACHS, Jeffrey – SANDERS, Bernie: Building the New American Economy – Smart, Fair and Sustainable. Columbia University Press. 2018. 152 pages. ISBN 9780231184052.

SHIROYAMA, Tomoko: Modern Global Trade and the Asian Regional Economy. Springer Singapore.2018. 145 pages. ISBN 9789811303753.

WRIGHT, Robert,E.: One Nation Under Debt – Hamilton, Jefferson and History of What We Owe. McGraw Hill Publisher, 2008. 256 pages. ISBN 0071543937.

WALTER, Greason - GORMAN, Wiliam, M.- ZIOBRO, Melissa: The American Economy. Kendall Hunt Publishing. 2016. 198 pages. ISBN 9781524902675.

Syllabus:

1. Historical peculiarities of the formation of individual regions of the world economy
2. The essence of the formation of the North American economic region
3. Specifics of US development - current economy, foreign trade, development trends and challenges for the future
4. Specifics of the formation of the Latin American economic region, the impact of natural resources, human resources and the conditions of involvement in the international division of labor from a historical and in terms of further development perspective
5. Economic development of Brazil, Argentina, Mexico
6. Specifics of the development of Asian economies - with a special focus on Japan, China, the newly industrialized countries of Southeast Asia of the first and second wave of industrialization
7. The European Union - specific to its formation, the current problems of economic development and cooperation between the member states of the European Union

8. The special position of developing countries in the world economy, the causes of lagging behind, the prospects for further development

Language whose command is required to complete the course:

English

Notes:

Assessment of courses

Total number of evaluated students: 0

A	B	C	D	E	FX
0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0

Lecturer: doc. Ing. Martin Grešš, PhD., Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD., Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD.

Date of the latest change: 19.01.2022

Approved by: Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Ing. Martin Grešš, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant, Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. PhDr. Lubomír Čech, CSc., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

University: University of Economics in Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of International Relations
Course code: KMPV FMV/ VVB22017e/22	Title of course: World Politics (in English)
Type, load and method of teaching activities: Form of course: Lecture Recommended load of course (number of lessons): Per week: Per course: 16s Method of study: present
Number of credits: 10
Recommended semester/trimester of study: 3.
Degree of study: III.
Prerequisites:
Requirements to complete the course: 40% semester work 60% final work
Student workload: 260 hours (10 ETCSx26 hours) Consultations: 16 hours Preparation for consultations: 26 hours Assignment processing: 108 hours Final study processing: 108 hours Consultations for the final study: 2 hours
Teaching results: The main objective of the subject "World Economy" at the 3rd level of study is deepening knowledge and conducting analysis in combination with extensive interdisciplinary knowledge from several fields of study. It will serve as a basis for research and development, formulation of solutions to economic and legal problems and the creation of new scientific knowledge in international economic relations. After completing the course, doctoral students will develop analytical skills to assess the peculiarities of historical development, the current state and forecasts of further development of individual regions of world politics. They will be able to assess the weight of individual regions in current world politics and outline alternatives for global policy development. Knowledge: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In-depth understanding of the political context of shaping the development trends in international economic relations • Ability to reflect and justify the causes of specific development trends in the most important regions • Understanding and critical analysis of the power position of individual actors • Understanding the implementation of the prediction of scenarios of the development of the position of individual regions. Competencies:

- To search for and analyze information from various scientific and other professional and specialized sources, on the issues of the world's most important regions,
- To carry out research at an appropriate level of qualification work
- To design and implement a specific research project.

Skills:

- To design, justify and use research methods for a specific project
- To formulate scientific conclusions based on understanding and predicting broader contexts.

Indicative content:

Historical peculiarities of the formation of individual regions of world politics. Changing the geopolitical position of the world's regions in a historical perspective. The EU as a global player. Geopolitical importance of the EU. The position of Member States. The rise of populism and extremism in Europe. The USA and alternatives of the position of the USA in world politics. The fission lines of American society. Contemporary Anglo-Saxon geopolitics. The Russian Federation and its place in European and world politics. Alternatives for the development of the position of the Russian Federation in world politics. Contemporary Russian geopolitics. The PRC and its place in the South East Asia region and in world politics. Alternatives to the development of the PRC 's position in world politics. Geopolitical significance of East and Southeast Asia and India. The special position of the Near East, Middle East and Turkey. Geopolitical and geostrategic importance of the Near East, Middle East and Turkey. Africa and its place in the world. The influence of global actors on the position of Africa. Geopolitical significance of Africa. Cooperative and competitive interests of the great powers in Africa. 8. The specific position of Latin America. Democracy and democratization waves in Latin America. Geopolitical significance of Latin America. Cooperative and competitive relations of Latin American countries.

Support literature:

NYE, J. S. – KEOHANE, R. O.: Transnational Relations and World Politics. Harvard University Press, 2014. 464 s. s. 329 – 349.

KAPLAN, M. A.: System and Process in International Politics. ECPR Press, 2005. s. 34 – 86. 258

s.

McDERMOTT, R.: Political Psychology in International Relations. s. 215 – 238. 320 s. ISBN 978-0472067015.

WALLERSTEIN, I.: The Decline of American Power. The New Press; Edition Unstated, 2003. Kapitoly 2, 3, s. 31 – 68. 324 s.

FRIEDEN, J. A., LAKE, D. A.: World Politics: Interests, Interactions, Institutions. W. W. Norton & Company, New York, 2021.

HEYWOOD, A.: Global Politics. Springer, New York, 2016.

HUNTINGTON, S. P. 1997. The Clash of Civilisations. Remaking of World Order. Touchstone, New York, 1997.

MARSHALL, T. 2016. Prisoners of Geography: Ten Maps That Explain Everything About the World (Politics of Place). Scribner Book Company, New York. 320 s.

SHORT, J. 2021. Geopolitics: Making Sense of a Changing World. Rowman & Littlefield Publishers, Lanham, 386 s.

Syllabus:

1. Historical peculiarities of the formation of individual regions of world politics. Changing the geopolitical position of the world's regions in a historical perspective.
2. The EU as a global player. Geopolitical importance of the EU. The position of Member States. The rise of populism and extremism in Europe.
3. The USA and alternatives of the position of the USA in world politics. The fission lines of American society. Contemporary Anglo-Saxon geopolitics.

4. The Russian Federation and its place in European and world politics. Alternatives for the development of the position of the Russian Federation in world politics. Contemporary Russian geopolitics.
5. The PRC and its place in the South East Asia region and in world politics. Alternatives to the development of the PRC 's position in world politics. Geopolitical significance of East and Southeast Asia and India.
6. The special position of the Near East, Middle East and Turkey. Geopolitical and geostrategic importance of the Near East, Middle East and Turkey.
7. Africa and its place in the world. The influence of global actors on the position of Africa. Geopolitical significance of Africa. Cooperative and competitive interests of the great powers in Africa.
8. The specific position of Latin America. Democracy and democratization waves in Latin America. Geopolitical significance of Latin America. Cooperative and competitive relations of Latin American countries.

Language whose command is required to complete the course:

English

Notes:

Assessment of courses

Total number of evaluated students: 0

A	B	C	D	E	FX
0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0

Lecturer: doc. PhDr. Rudolf Kucharčík, PhD., doc. Milan Kurucz, CSc., doc. PhDr. František Škvrnda, CSc., doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant

Date of the latest change: 19.01.2022

Approved by: Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Ing. Martin Grešš, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. JUDr. Ing. Katarína Brocková, PhD., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. Dr. Tomáš Imrich Profant, Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme doc. PhDr. Lubomír Čech, CSc., Person responsible for the delivery, development and quality of the study programme Dr. habil. Ing. Eva Jančíková, PhD.